

Search Engine List

Academic

Google Scholar – <http://scholar.google.com/>

Ref Seek <http://www.refseek.com/> RefSeek is a web search engine for students and researchers that aims to make academic information easily accessible to everyone. RefSeek searches more than one billion documents, including web pages, books, encyclopedias, journals, and newspapers

Sweetsearch evaluated sources designed for students <http://www.sweetsearch.com/>

Intute covers Science, and Engineering and more: <http://www.intute.ac.uk/sciences/>

Virtual Reference Collection <http://libraries.mit.edu/research/virtualref.html>

Infomine for scholarly internet resource collections <http://infomine.ucr.edu/>

Scirus provides access to most comprehensive scientific research tool on the web <http://www.scirus.com/srsapp/>

Directories

Academic Info <http://www.academicinfo.net/table.html#c>

General Search Engines

AltaVista is still out there, still doing a good job <http://www.altavista.com/>

Digital Librarian; a librarian's choice of the best of the web <http://www.digital-librarian.com/>

Gigablast is a search engine with some interesting features, good advanced search power, and an excellent user experience <http://www.gigablast.com/>

JoeAnt is about providing a directory of quality sites for Internet users. Our goal is to list the best sites for a wide variety of topics giving our users the most relevant results for their searches <http://www.joeant.com/>

Librarians' Internet Index is a brilliant resource <http://www.ipl.org/>

Open Directory Project is the largest, most comprehensive human-edited directory of the Web. It is constructed and maintained by a vast, global community of volunteer editors. <http://www.dmoz.org/>

Maps

Google Maps <http://maps.google.com/>

Mapquest <http://www.mapquest.com/>

Rand McNally <http://www.randmcnally.com/>

Yahoo Maps <http://maps.yahoo.com/>

Meta Search Engines

20SEARCH <http://www.20search.com/>

AllPlus - meta search and discovery engine <http://www.allplus.com/>

DOGPILE for multisearch of Google, Yahoo, Ask & Bing <http://www.dogpile.com/>

Mamma is the mother of all meta search engines <http://www.mamma.com/>

News Search Engines

Newscred for credible news stories <http://platform.newscred.com/>

Silobreaker is the #1 news site out there, bar none <http://www.silobreaker.com/>

Daylife is a type of news search engine. This search engine allows its users to search for the latest news available from different news sources. Some of the news sources are BBC, CNN.com, and New York Times etc. Besides this news searching, it can also search for the editorial photos from different websites <http://www.daylife.com/>

Newslookup This is the news search engine available on the internet. It searches for thousands of news websites to search for the desired content. This search engine allows their users to search the news by two ways. One is by the source region and the second is through the media type, which includes the newspaper, radio etc. <http://www.newslookup.com/>

Travel

Travelocity: offers a pretty cool interactive travel gallery, detailed information about passports and visas, and Dream Maps, a fun way to plan all sorts of vacations. <http://www.travelocity.com/>

Expedia, a Travel Search Engine <http://www.expedia.com/>

Search Engine Colossus and click on Travel for a large number of places to go for travel information. <http://www.searchenginecolossus.com/Travel.html>

Worldweb.com <http://www.worldweb.com/> WorldWeb.com provides comprehensive travel information. In addition to offering great deals on hotel and car reservations, WorldWeb.com connects you directly to local businesses including lodging providers, restaurants, transportation services, and .

Some of the information gathered came from Phil Bradley's website: Making the net easier
<http://www.philb.com/webse.htm>